

CRUELTY TOWARDS ANIMALS

The world has many people. Some of them are kind and good and some are cruel and greedy. They hunted the animals in the forest like tiger, elephant etc. They tear their skin, tusk, teeth etc. They sale them in foreign countries and got rupees. The people make woolen shawl, wool from skin of animals. These animals do not harm human beings. When they are disturbed then only they attack human beings. They are not cruel. The population of the world forests animals are decreasing day-by-day. The people kill them for rupees. Earlier the population of tigers was 3,00,000. Today it is only 39,000. The people who kill the animals are greedy, cruel and cunning. We have to save them from bad persons.
