

Mother - the Goddess of the Earth

God created the moon, stars, earth and all that we can see from our eyes and even more. He gave human intelligence, power, thinking ability and feelings. He created two entities though - the man & the woman. He distributed work amongst them both. But gave the biggest responsibility and privilege to the woman. The privilege of being a mother. The responsibility of bringing a child into the existence.

It is the same mother who keeps the baby into the womb for 9 months before birth. It is the same mother who brings up her child with love, care and develops the child into a working person. She gives her knowledge and teaches the child the basic things of life. How to eat, how to walk, how to live. She protects the child from foreign things and does everything for the welfare of the child. Slowly the child grows from a little baby to a school going kid, a college student & ultimately a working person. In each stage of this cycle the mother play a vital role. But however in today's world as soon as the child grows up he asks for freedom. The same child who was once accountable to his mother wants the exact opposite. He disrespects, neglects and forgets what his mother has done for him. We should realize that the mother is important to us not only in the childhood but till the end of the life. She loves us, so we should love her, she cares for us, so we should care for her. She needs us as much as we need her. With what a mother does for us she is a sacred entity of the world.

We should love her, we should worship her "Mother indeed is the goddess of the earth". ,
