

Success - the desire

This is the first Puja Souvenir of Ashoka Enclave Durga Puja, the first giant step taken by 'ASHOKA ENCLAVE DURGA POOJA COMMITTEE' Dream - Vision - Thought - Wishes have been successfully shaped. I was thinking of putting on few lines on the Souvenir, but was not sure of the subject. Then I thought why not to talk about something which we all so dearly think, talk, desire and cherish - "SUCCESS", the word which is so attached to our daily life, at all sphere, irrespective of age. Let me try and construct few ideas - not preaching.

Success is having an inherent link to all our activities and outcome. Doing and completing a job (where satisfaction and recognition) both complements each other, signifies the Success. Success can be subjective - The happiness, the peace of mind, good family, good health are all parts of the subjective Success.

We all want Success, we all work for it - but sometimes it eludes us. Failure is disheartening - no body wants to be a failure, we all hate to be Failed on any given activity or functioning. But isn't "Failure" a true relation to 'Success' - as It's rightly said "Success and Failure are two side of a coin", 'Success' and happiness are very closely related. To define 'Success', the beautiful - so appropriate statement of Early Nightingale holds the best.

"Success Is the progressive realisation of worthy goal"

It is a journey, not a destination. Success is no mystery but the result of consistently applying some basic principles. How to measure the Success? Lot many thoughts, number of elucidation - Perhaps the best way to measure Success is how many times one can bounce back. So if the elements of failure is not there, the Success is superfluous.

Let's talk about the life journey of a noted person - He was failure in business at the age of 21 yrs. Lost in Legislative Assembly at 22 and 24 yrs. Lost his wife 26 yrs. Had a nervous break down at 27 yrs. Lost the Senatorial Election at the age of 45, 47 and 49 Yrs. Elected President of America at the age of 52 Yrs. and so far being considered as the most efficient and loved President. He was none other than ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

Thomas Eddison, the noted inventor lost his everything at the age of 67. His million dollars factory burnt in few minutes fire. The insurance was very small. His reaction after the fire - "it's good that some oold goods and idea is perished, I can start a fresh" - within weeks time he invented Phonograph.

The above stories are indeed thought provoking and influences our thinking process.

Positive attitude plays an important role in the Success of a person. Everyone has the quality to be successful. It is the approach and perception - basically it is the attitude that breeds success.
